

INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL FOR STUDENTS
LYON, FRANCE

The “Modern Mathematics” International Summer School for Students will take place this 23-30 August in Lyon (after two successful events, 2011 and 2013, at Jacobs University Bremen, and in 2012 also in Lyon). This event is open for young talents in their last two years of high school and the first two years of university. The application website is not quite finished yet; you’ll find a link at math.jacobs-university.de/summerschool.
